Day Ahead Web

Efficient, simple, secure trading

Nord Pool has been delivering power trading across Europe for over 20 years. To meet the ever-changing demands of the modern power market we have developed Day Ahead Web, a streamlined trading application connecting European markets and making buying and selling power easy.

A trading platform you can trust all day, every day

- Day Ahead Web gives you unlimited access to all Nord Pool day-ahead markets through a simple-to-use HTML5 web-based interface.
- Our Day Ahead API is FREE and integrates your systems with the day-ahead trading platform, allowing seamless and fully-automated trading.
- Complete access to European product offerings including single hourly orders, regular block orders, flexi orders, exclusive groups and block orders with parameters e.g. profile; minimum acceptance ratio; linking.
- Trade confidently within your preferred order ranges by engaging our adjustable parameters.
- Access records of all trades, prices and volumes quickly and efficiently.
- Customise the interface to suit your preferences.

Day Ahead API

Use our FREE Day Ahead API to integrate your internal systems with Nord Pool markets enabling automation of your trading and operations activities, maximising market opportunities.

Internal systems can be programmed to submit and amend orders automatically, while the software collects data for trade analysis and historical data for your records.

Access all API technical documentation quickly and simply via the Nord Pool Developer Portal.

REMIT Compliance

Register for Nord Pool's REMIT Transaction Reporting Services which gather all transactions conducted within the platform and automatically reports them to ACER.

Easily accessible overviews and detailed reports give you confidence that your transactions are REMIT compliant.

Fees

Access to the Day Ahead Web and the Day Ahead API is FREE of charge for customers trading in Nord Pool's day-ahead markets. For the complete fee structure, terms and conditions see our website.
